Being there for you and your family

Who we are and what our compassionate neighbours can do for you...

Compassionate neighbours provide support to you and your relatives or carers in your own home.

A member of the compassionate neighbours team will visit you to discuss how our volunteers can support you. They will also carry out a risk assessment.

Our compassionate neighbours provide support to our patients, relatives and carers for up to four hours per week, allowing relatives and carers to leave the home with peace of mind or have time to themselves.

Please note we are not able to provide this service to patients that attend LOROS Day Therapy or have similar support from other organisations.

Our compassionate neighbours are available Monday - Friday 9am to 5pm. Visits outside of these hours are considered on an individual basis.

The service provided is on a short-term basis, allowing the service to be offered to a greater number of patients. A member of the compassionate neighbours team will contact you every eight weeks to review how it's working.

Selection and training of compassionate neighbours

New volunteers go through a selection procedure. If suitable they are invited to attend a one and a half day education and training programme.

All our volunteers are required to have satisfactory clearance through The Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) this helps LOROS make safer recruitment decisions.

What compassionate neighbours can do:

- Offer companionship, emotional support and a listening ear
- Support with hobbies and interests
- Help you to stay connected to your friends and the community, for example going out for a coffee. If you need to use a wheelchair, we have been educated on safe wheelchair handling techniques
- Provide practical support such as making a cup of tea and light meals

- Spend time with patients who live alone and who may not be able to leave the house
- When visiting, we can help you to the toilet if you are in need of minor assistance for example supervision when walking to the toilet, assist with simple sit to stand transfers as long as you can stand for a short period of time and adjust clothing if required. If you use a catheter and require assistance with emptying the bag this will be discussed with the compassionate neighbours team when they visit you for the first time

The service provided is tailored to meet your needs and the needs of your relative or carer. Our volunteers will adapt themselves according to how you are feeling on the day.

What our compassionate neighbours cannot do:

- Compassionate neighbours are not employed as nurses or care workers
- We cannot help with complex transfers for example if you need to use a sling and hoist
- We cannot physically hand out your medication; however, we can remind you to take your medication if it is in a pre-dispensed box from your pharmacy or has been left out and in a suitable container by your family/carer so you can self-administer
- If the volunteer has any concerns regarding medication they will contact the home visiting office, and a member of the home visiting team will then contact your family or carer to discuss any concerns around medication

- We are unable to carry out any heavy household duties; however if you are on your own the home visiting team will discuss this on an individual basis and decide how we can support you
- We are unable to do your gardening; however, we may be able to point you in the right direction to find support with such tasks if required

Will I have to pay for compassionate neighbours?

All of our services are free of charge to our patients, their family and carers. It costs £7.5 million each year to deliver our services the NHS does give us some money. But we still need to raise at least £4.5 million each year from our local community.
