We will all reach the end of our lives – and when that happens, many people need the specialist, expert, compassionate care which LOROS Hospice provides. Our team of nurses, doctors and other healthcare professionals, work tirelessly, bringing skill, experience and dedication to the 2,500+ patients we care for every year across Leicester, Leicestershire and Rutland.

LOROS care is as special and unique as each individual, with the aim of helping patients live the very fullest life they can, right up until their last day. Our services include a 31-bed inpatient ward, day services, and outreach support in patients' homes as well as a wide range of services for patients and their families, from counselling to physiotherapy to complementary therapy.

Our support is free but it costs £8.5million to deliver our services each year.
