

Screening for people with a family history of Abdominal Aortic Aneurysm (AAA).

Caring at its best

- If your brother, sister, or a parent has or had an AAA you can ask your GP about getting an ultrasound scan.
- Men and women aged 50 or over can do this if their close relative had an AAA.
- If you have a family history, you have an increased risk of developing an AAA. A simple ultrasound scan saves lives.