Make Christmas your Business

Whilst Christmas may still feel a little different this year, that's not to say it can't still be special. Make Christmas Your Business, and bring colleagues together to enjoy laughter-filled afternoons completing a whole host of LOROS challenges and activities!

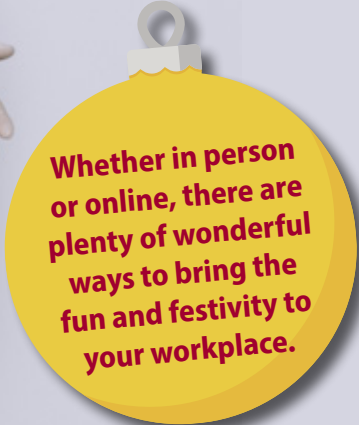

Christmas is a time for giving and local business Welcomm Communications are proud to continue to support LOROS. Here's a simple suggestion from Welcomm on how you can get involved and take part in your own Christmas Cocktail Hour.

Activity

Give your staff the gift of time together this Christmas, by hosting your own Christmas Cocktail Hour:

- Everybody donates the price of their favourite drink to take part
- Everybody enters their favourite/ invented Christmas Cocktail recipe into a draw
- The top 3-5 most creative cocktails are chosen as finalists
- Finalists selected then have to create and demonstrate how to make the cocktails via video call
- Others have the option to join in and make the drinks along with them
- Viewers then vote for the best cocktail from the final entries – winner gets a prize

Whether in person or online, there are plenty of wonderful ways to bring the fun and festivity to your workplace.

The Office Quiz Master

25ml of Blue Curacao

25ml Vodka

100ml lemon lime sparkling water

15ml Lime Juice

Garnish slice of lime

Snow rimmed glass (sugar)

The perfect accompaniment to your office or virtual quiz!

“As a way of giving back to our staff, at Welcomm we are hosting our Christmas Cocktail Hour on a Friday afternoon, to connect with our people and reward them with an early finish. Not only does this give us the chance to demonstrate to our teams how much they are appreciated, but is also an easy way to raise money for LOROS, our charity partner. You would buy a friend a drink at Christmas, so why not ‘buy one’ for the LOROS staff members who are working hard to deliver exceptional care to the terminally ill this holiday season.”

– Rachel Williamson, Operations Director at Welcomm Communications and LOROS Hospice Ambassador

Working from home edition:

Alternatively, choose Christmas headwear, such as boppers or hats. Anyone caught taking them off on a zoom call must make a donation to LOROS!

Jolly Jumper

Skip the suits for a day in favour of something festive! Get everyone to pay £2 to work in the comfort of a Christmas jumper, with a prize for the ugliest knit and fines for those that don't comply! Wearing the same jumper as someone else? That's a fine too!

Spruce It Up!

Who has the best Christmas decorating skills? Get everyone to decorate their desks ready for Santa's arrival, charging £5 entry. Use half of the fees to donate to LOROS and half as a prize for the winner.

Working from home edition:

Get your colleagues to send in pictures of their trees, and send to all, asking everyone to vote for their favourite.

Care for Christmas Cake?

Uncover the joy of festive baking and host a socially-distanced Coffee Morning, Afternoon Tea or Cake Sale to raise vital funds for LOROS this Christmas! In exchange for a donation, treat your colleagues to gingerbread, mince pies and maybe even some brandy butter if you're feeling fancy.

Secret Santa

Secret Santa, but with a naughty little twist! Each person receiving a gift has one guess at who it was from. Get it right, and the Secret Santa has to donate £5 to the pot, get it wrong and you pay the donation instead! Any amount can be agreed from £1 upwards with all proceeds going to LOROS.

Working from home edition:
